Teaching Methods

- This is a college course and attendance is essential to learning the required material. A portion of your grade is based on your attendance and participation.
- Students that are absent, regardless of the nature of the absence, are responsible for any assignments, projects or exam changes made while the student was not in attendance. Be a responsible student and keep you with your assignments, projects and other important deadlines.
- If you are asleep, you are considered absent.
- If you arrive more than 10 minutes late, you are considered absent.
- If you miss an exam, it's your responsibility to see the instructor for make-up exam arrangements. Instructor reserves the right to refuse make-up exams and to refuse late assignments and/or projects.
- To receive full credit for the course, all project and exam criteria must be met.
- To receive full credit on assignments, they must be submitted when due. Late work, including exams will NOT be accepted unless there is a special circumstance approved in advance by instructor.
- Cheating will not be tolerated and is subject to expulsion
- Cell phones ringing and text messaging during class are a disturbance and will not be tolerated. Please be considerate and turn off your phone or on silent. Continual disturbances will not be tolerated.

*IMPORTANT NOTE: Students who have poor attendance and miss exams will receive a grade of “F”. Do make sure you withdraw properly to protect your GPA! Take note of withdrawal dates.

NTCC Academic Honesty Statement

“Students are expected to complete course work in an honest manner, using their intellects and resources designated as allowable by the course instructor. Students are responsible for addressing questions about allowable resources with the course instructor. NTCC upholds the highest standards of academic integrity. This course will follow the NTCC Academic Honesty policy stated in the Student Handbook.”

Academic Ethics:

Northeast Texas Community College may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of scholastic dishonesty. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, statements, acts, or omissions related to applications for enrollment or the award of a degree, and/or the submission as one's own work material that is not one's own. Scholastic dishonesty may involve, but is not limited to, one or more of the following acts: cheating, plagiarism, collusion, use of annotated texts or teacher's editions, and/or falsifying academic records. Any violations of the above will result in an F in the course.

Plagiarism is defined as the appropriation of any person's work and the unacknowledged incorporation of that work in one's own work offered for credit.

Cheating is defined to include the following: copying from another student's paper; using materials during a test not authorized by the person giving the test; collaborating with any other person during the test without permission; knowingly obtaining, using, buying, selling, transporting, or soliciting in whole or in part the content of test not yet administered; substituting for another student or permitting any other person to substitute for oneself; copying computer or Internet files, using someone else's work for assignments as if it were one's own, or any other dishonest means of attempting to fulfill the requirements of a course.

Collusion is defined as the unauthorized collaboration with any person in preparing work offered for credit.
