The final will be comprehensive and contain information from the entire course. If you have a conflict with the exam dates, you must contact the instructor prior to the exam week to attempt to resolve the conflict in a mutually agreeable manner.

Assignments:

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS:

Each assignment will be 1 - 2 double-spaced pages, Times New Roman #12 font, and is due at the beginning of class on Thursday of the week that it is due.

Each Blackboard Assignment will require a short, written response. The student is required to answer the question, or respond to the statement, made in the assignment by citing the related statute and providing an opinion, if requested. Responses should be no longer than a single type-written page.

The instructor reserves the right to modify the topics to be covered in order to best prepare the student with the above stated learning outcomes.

QUIZZES:

There will be 2 quizzes for this course. Each quiz will be a mixture of multiple choice and short answer questions. Each quiz will be worth a total of 100 points of your total class grade.

Missed quizzes must be made up before the next quiz/test date. Failure to make up a quiz will result in a 0 score for that assignment.

Student Responsibilities/Expectations:

Class Attendance: Participation in class discussions and assignments is mandatory. Students' participation grade (100 points of the total Class Grade) will be heavily based on in-class engagement.

Withdrawal requests MUST BE initiated by the student. The last day for a student to drop a course with a grade of "W" is Tuesday November 19, 2019. Requests for withdrawal become official and effective the date they are received in the records office. Students who stop coming to class but fail to drop the course will earn an "F" for the course.

Late Work: To be considered "on time," all work must be submitted at the beginning of class on the day that it is due. Assignments can be submitted for a 10% deduction for one week following the assignment due date. If there are extenuating circumstances, please contact your instructor.

Family Educational Rights And Privacy Act (FERPA):

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is a federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education. FERPA gives parents certain rights with respect to their children's educational records. These rights transfer to the student when he or she attends a school beyond the high school level. Students to whom the rights have transferred are considered "eligible students." In essence, a parent has no legal right to obtain information concerning the child's college records without the written consent of the student. In compliance with FERPA, information classified as "directory information" may be released to the general public without the written consent of the student unless the student makes a request in writing. Directory information is defined as: the student's name, permanent address and/or local address, telephone listing, dates of attendance, most recent previous education institution attended, other information including major, field of study, degrees, awards received, and participation in officially recognized activities/sports.
