Course Description: ENGL 2311 Technical Communications: 3 credit hours; 3 hours of class each week

Intensive study of and practice in professional settings. Focus on the types of documents necessary to make decisions and take action on the job, such as proposals, reports, instructions, policies and procedures, email messages, letters, and descriptions of products and services. Practice individual and collaborative processes involved in the creation of ethical and efficient documents.

Class Description: This course provides a foundation of the various communication formats in the health professions, including letters, memos, electronic communication, charting and written reports, oral presentations, and interpersonal communication. The course also includes other business items such as résumés, application letters, personal statements, interviewing tips, and employment follow-up documents.

Required Textbook(s): Heifferon, Barbara A. Writing in the Health Professions.

Publisher: New York: Pearson Longman, 2005.

ISBN Number: ISBN (10): 0-321-10527-3

Recommended Readings: Grammar handbook of your choice. A good online handbook is located here: <http://www.cws.illinois.edu/workshop/writers/#clauses>, and more grammar resources can be found here: <https://owl.english.purdue.edu/>

Computer Requirements: You must have access to a computer to take this course. Your computer needs to have Windows XP SP3 or later or MAC OS X10.3 or higher. You will need Office 2003 or higher. You will also need broadband internet access. If you do not have access to a computer with the minimum computer requirements, I strongly suggest that you reconsider taking this course.

Student Learning Outcomes: Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

- Recognize, analyze, and accommodate diverse audiences.
- Produce documents appropriate to audience, purpose, and genre.
- Analyze the ethical responsibilities involved in technical communication.
- Locate, evaluate, and incorporate pertinent information.
- Develop verbal, visual, and multimedia materials as necessary, in individual and/or collaborative projects, as appropriate.
- Edit for appropriate style, including attention to word choice, sentence structure, punctuation, and spelling.
- Design and test documents for easy reading and navigation.

Course Objectives: Your goals in this course lie a few years down the road, when you will need this type of writing in your chosen profession. The course is a building block to provide you with a foundation for technical writing.

Lectures and Discussions: This course involves a great deal of material that builds on the concepts presented in your textbook. We will use supplementary materials such as videos, academic publications, and other web-based information that has been carefully selected to build your communication skills. Consequently, your successful completion of the course depends on your attentive reading and viewing of all preparatory lesson materials before you attempt each assignment. Because each lesson builds on previous lessons, it is important not to skip materials or lessons. Even if you are unable to submit work for a lesson, you should read/view the materials in preparation for future lessons.

Evaluation/Grading: Your course grade will be calculated using the following weighted projects/categories:

Project Quizzes	20%
Grammar Lab Quizzes	10%
Medical Literature Synthesis and Short Annotated Bibliography	10%
Charting and Short Reports Project	10%
Media and Culture in Health Writing PowerPoint	10%
Patient Information Pamphlet and Public Health Project	10%
Personal Portfolio	10%
Research Paper/Annotated Bibliography	20%
Total	100%

Assignments: All assignments will be submitted online through Blackboard. Each project folder contains the links necessary for all submissions of Assignments and Quizzes. ONLY IF a problem arises with Blackboard, your instructor will coordinate an alternative method of submission. DO NOT email submissions without prior authorization.

Quizzes: All quizzes will be administered online through Blackboard. Each quiz will be open for a minimum of 48 hours (noted on your Course Schedule and in each Lesson Schedule). All material covered in this course may appear on these quizzes. You MAY NOT make up any quizzes you miss unless you have a documented emergency. In the event of an emergency, contact your instructor as soon as possible to make arrangements regarding missed work.

Course Level Assessment: Your mastery of important course concepts will be assessed using a Research Report Project that consists of a formal, researched report on a health professions topic and an annotated bibliography of research materials. The Research Report will be assessed using the following rubric:

Research Report Rubric

Criteria/Weight	Does Not Meet Expectations (1 – 3 points) x percentage	Meets Expectations (4 – 7 points) x percentage	Exceeds Expectations (8 – 10 points) x percentage
Information content (50%)	Information is not on topic or is unfocused; data is not relevant or sufficient to meet a clearly identifiable purpose.	Information is generally on topic; data is mostly relevant and sufficient to meet a clearly identifiable purpose.	Information is directly on topic; data is very relevant and sufficient to meet a clearly identifiable purpose.
Structure (10%)	Paragraphs are poorly organized; use of sections is illogical and hinders document navigation.	Paragraphs are usually well-organized; use of sections is logical and generally allows easy navigation of the document.	All paragraphs are well-organized; use of sections is logical and allows easy navigation through the document.
Graphics, Figures and Tables (10%)	Graphical elements such as sketches, maps, etc. are of poor quality and fail to support the text. Figures and tables are not clearly or logically identified and fail to support the text.	Graphical elements such as sketches, maps, etc. are of good quality and adequately support the text. Some figures and tables are clearly and logically identified and adequately support the text.	All graphical elements such as sketches, maps, etc. are creative, professional, and strongly support the text. Documentation (20%)	Fails to correctly document any sources or to utilize appropriate citation forms.	Most sources are correctly documented; appropriate citation forms are generally utilized.	All sources are correctly and thoroughly documented; appropriate citation forms are utilized throughout.
Total 100%	*NOTE: Because documentation proficiency is a core objective of this course, any report that does not correctly use documentation CANNOT receive a passing grade even if the total score of all categories is above passing.

Late Work: Work other than quizzes submitted late will be penalized 10 points for each day late. This penalty will apply in addition to any deductions for errors in the work. For example, if an assignment would have earned a 90 if submitted on time but is submitted 2 days late, it would receive a 70; 90 for a competency score minus a 20-point deduction for late submission. Once a score of “0” has been entered in the gradebook for any work, that work is no longer eligible for submission unless you have a documented emergency. In the event of an emergency, contact your instructor as soon as possible to make arrangements regarding missed work.

The Research Report and Annotated Bibliography MAY NOT be submitted late!

Student Responsibilities/Expectations: Students are expected to approach this online course as though they were in a classroom. You should be prepared to take notes as you read/view materials, and you should set aside sufficient time in a place free from distractions whenever you attempt your coursework. If you are having trouble with an assignment, please email me BEFORE the assignment is late. If you need help with your writing, you can contact me or you can visit the QEP tutors in the Learning Commons on our NTCC campus. They are available to help you succeed -- please use their help.

Online Etiquette: All students enrolled at the college shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. Online communications should be as thoughtful and respectful as any face-to-face communications. Consequently, you should take the time to edit, proofread, and consider the tone of any messages you send, whether they are intended for me or for a fellow student. Demeaning or offensive communications are grounds for disciplinary actions, up to and including removal from the course.

Course Withdrawal: IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY TO DROP A COURSE OR WITHDRAW FROM THE COLLEGE. FAILURE TO DO SO WILL RESULT IN RECEIVING A PERFORMANCE GRADE, USUALLY A GRADE OF "F." Please check the college schedule for the relevant withdrawal dates for this semester.

NTCC Academic Honesty Statement: "Students are expected to complete course work in an honest manner, using their intellects and resources designated as allowable by the course instructor. Students are responsible for addressing questions about allowable resources with the course instructor. NTCC upholds the highest standards of academic integrity. This course will follow the NTCC Academic Honesty policy stated in the Student Handbook."

Academic Ethics: The college expects all students to engage in academic pursuits in a manner that is beyond reproach. Students are expected to maintain complete honesty and integrity in their academic pursuit. Academic dishonesty such as cheating, plagiarism, and collusion is unacceptable and may result in an F in the course. Refer to the student handbook for more information on this subject.

ADA Statement: It is the policy of NTCC to provide reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals who are students with disabilities. This College will adhere to all applicable federal, state, and local laws, regulations, and guidelines with respect to providing reasonable accommodations as required to afford equal educational opportunity. It is the student's responsibility to arrange an appointment with a College counselor to obtain a Request for Accommodations form. For more information, please refer to the NTCC Catalog or Student Handbook.

Family Educational Rights And Privacy Act (Ferpa): The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is a federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education. FERPA gives parents certain rights with respect to their children's educational records. These rights transfer to the student when he or she attends a school beyond the high school level. Students to whom the rights have transferred are considered "eligible students." In essence, a parent has no legal right to obtain information concerning the child's college records without the written consent of the student. In compliance with FERPA, information classified as "directory information" may be released to the general public without the written consent of the student unless the student makes a request in writing. Directory information is defined as: the student's name, permanent address and/or local address, telephone listing, dates of attendance, most recent previous education institution attended, other information including major, field of study, degrees, awards received, and participation in officially recognized activities/sports.
